The pumpkins
will hate you for it.

Each year, dozens of teams descend upon Aurora with giant trebuchets and catapults and air cannons in tow, ready to see who can dress the craziest, behave the oddest and chuck a pumpkin the farthest. There's music and games and big, big crowds. And if you've never had the pleasure of helping a pumpkin soar, it's an event you just gotta sign up for.

Physics teachers: what a way to teach the laws of physics!

Scout leaders: here is a way for your troop to earn their engineering badge.
