Speaker:

Theresa Johnston,
Author of Got Guts

Theresa Johnston and her husband of 53 years, Jerry Johnston, are former residents of Aurora, Colorado. They have been active in ministry for 30 years. Theresa and her brother were the first Black students to enter the Clay Kentucky School when Integration was first ordered in 1956. She and her mother then marched with Dr. King in Washington, D. C., in 1957.

Theresa compiled a book about her mother's life story & their life changing participation in the 1956 Clay Kentucky School Integration. The book is titled 'GOT GUTS'... Mother said, "If you got the guts to go I got the guts to take you!"
