

WATER-WISE LANDSCAPE AWARD

Whether you designed it yourself or had someone else perform the work, you've put a lot of love into your low-water landscape. The results, we're sure, have been fabulous.

Now it's time to be rewarded for all of your effort. Submit an application for our Water-wise Landscape Award, and if your landscape wins, you could receive various prizes, including a credit on your water bill of up to $100. If someone you know has a gorgeous low-water landscape, we also accept nominations.

Applications will be judged based on appearance and use of low-water landscape material and techniques.

Application and at least five high-resolution photos are due by Aug. 15, and winners will be notified by Sept. 1, 2020.

REQUIREMENTS:

- Nominee must be an Aurora Water customer.
- Area must be a front or side yard visible to the public.
- Landscape must have been installed at least one year prior to nomination to show healthy establishment.
- No more than half of the landscaped area can be high-water turf such as Kentucky bluegrass
- At least five high-resolution photos along with the application. All photo submissions may be used to promote Aurora Water's conservation programs. Your address and name will not be included, unless, of course, you win this thing, and then we'll use your name.

After completing the application, submit it along with your photos to conservation@auroragov.org.
